U.S. DIVERSITY, INTERNATIONAL, & COMMUNICATION INTENSIVE FOCUS COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Before graduating, all Bentley students matriculating on or after fall semester 1999 must satisfy the Special Focus Course Requirements by selecting courses from a list of approved courses that have U.S. diversity, international studies, and communications-intensive material as their focus. In order to graduate students are required to take and pass:

- one 3-credit U.S. diversity-focused course,
- one 3-credit international-focused course, &
- two 3-credit communication-intensive courses, one in the major and one outside the major course of study.

Courses that satisfy the communication, diversity and international intensive focus requirements are found in Workday with the course tags 'Course Focus: Communication Intensive', 'Course Focus: Diversity Intensive' and/or 'Course Focus: International Intensive'.

Transfer students entering Bentley with 30 or more transfer credits are waived from these course focus requirements.
