English

The English major is designed to ground students in the methods, philosophies, and practices of literary and cultural studies. The major is ideal for students who wish to refine their ability to write and communicate effectively via the written word, images, and/or video and those interested in careers in editing, publishing, and communications. Courses in literary genres and traditions, creative writing, cinema studies, cultural analysis, and creative production give students both hands-on experience and theoretical principles.

Please see the Degree Requirement Summary at the top of the page for more detailed curriculum information.

Think you might like to major in English? The career possibilities are endless and you are encouraged to speak with a faculty mentor in the department. For further career exploration, visit the Career Services site.
