Arts Community

Located in Miller Hall, this community is open to all students interested in exploring their creative side while at Bentley. Students living in the Arts Community will have access to an artistic work space with supplies and materials to engage in creative expression and collaborate with others in the community. Additionally, students will have the opportunity to explore the arts in the Greater Boston Area and share their artistic endeavors with the larger Bentley community.

Students living in this community will:

- Meet and engage with other residents interested in the worlds of art and culture.
- Identify and explore their own passions around the arts.
- Apply their passion for the arts into their overall academic and co-curricular experience.

I'm an Arts student at a business school and I wanted to be around other students interested in art. Being a part of the community has introduced me to so many awesome people and opportunities to express my creativity!
