Blueprint Community

Located in Slade Hall, The Blueprint Community is focused on challenging first-year students to identify who they are as leaders and how they want to be involved on Bentley's campus. Students here have an opportunity to explore their career, leadership, and engagement goals by connecting their academic work with hands-on experiences in their community.

Students living in this community will:

- Identify their own leadership style.
- Establish leadership, involvement, and future career goals.
- Display leadership skills and abilities that will complement their overall academic and involvement experiences.

Living on the floor has helped me think about what I am getting involved in, what my plans are for further involvement, and how it all relates to my career after Bentley.
